

NCTM sponsors event on Renewable Energy in London

Milan, June 15, 2010 – The event “Focus Italy: Investing in Renewable Energy” will be held in London on June 16, 2010.

Federico Manili and Giuliano Berruti, partners of NCTM, will be the speakers at this event that has been organised by mergermarket and co-sponsored by NCTM and NextEnergy Capital.

This meeting has the objective of tackling the themes of investments in renewable energy in Italy in more detail, focusing on the legislative and economic aspects; the meeting is mainly oriented towards international operators in private equity, investment bankers, corporate and, more generically, towards those foreign investors that may have some interest in investing and buying in this sector.

Federico Manili, Head of the Energy Department and Giuliano Berruti, Head of the Administrative Law Department will be sitting at the speaker’s table.

“The renewable energy sector in Italy presently gives enormous opportunities for investment, above all as far as photovoltaic energy is concerned”, comments Federico Manili.

“At the same time the peculiar legislation concerning the renewable energy sector, typical of the Italian market, requires the investor carry out accurate audits of the target projects beforehand in order to carefully evaluate their investment”, he concludes.
